Customer Reviews

"We have always resonated with Robert Robinson's hymn "Come Thou Fount," especially the line, "Prone to wander, Lord, I feel it, prone to leave the God I love. We feel the pull daily away from God's goodness and toward a pursuit of our own, away from God's gracious acceptance and toward the exhausting, impossible weight of trying to tip the scales in our favor. We are grateful to God that Paul has written this devotional to help, in Robinson's words, seal our hearts for God's courts above. If you're prone to wander, this book is for you." —Matt and Lauren Chandler, Lead Pastor, The Village Church, Dallas, Texas; President, Acts 29 Church Planting Network; and his wife Lauren, writer; speaker; singer "Each morning for years, Paul Tripp has served fresh-brewed wisdom and encouragement through his pithy, thought-provoking tweets, reminding us again and again of the all-sufficiency of Christ and his grace. New Morning Mercies offers more of the same (without the limitation of 140 characters)! These devotional readings will strengthen, nourish, and recalibrate your heart, and open your eyes to behold God's fresh mercies at the dawn of each new day.

• Nancy DeMoss Wolgemuth, author; Bible teacher; host, Revive Our Hearts

"Over the last year, New Morning Mercies has been a great source of life to me. Paul's writing encourages those who have grown weary of the struggle, living under the weight of the world."

• TobyMac, hip hop recording artist; music producer; songwriter

"Paul Tripp beautifully blends wisdom that has been gained through years of counseling, insight into the biblical story of redemption, and his strong grasp of Christ as our substitute to produce a series of daily devotions that both warm the heart of the hurting and challenge the complacent. You will find this book to be both deeply rooted in scriptural truths and yet eminently readable. I highly recommend it!"

• Elyse M. Fitzpatrick, counselor; speaker; author, Found in Him

I bought this as a gift for a friend, but I sneaked a little peak inside. I loved the devotions. If you love Paul David Tripp's other stuff, you will be pleased. The book is a nice book too. It has good weight paper (not the cheap stuff you can see through) and the type is easily readable. I don't have to break out the reading glasses. The gift edition does look like a gift edition. It looks special. And my friend has commented multiple times about how much she loves it.

I'm so glad I bought this devotional. It is very well written and the concepts are definitely applicable to everyday life. The author really understands the Christian life. I look forward to reading each day's entry when I get up in the morning, a great way to start the day in addition to my daily Bible study and prayer time.

LOVE LOVE LOVE this devotional. I've given it as a gift so many times and recommend it to everyone that asks me about devotionals. It was actually purchased quite a while ago and apparently I am only just now getting around to reviewing it!! I have a hard copy and kindle version and grasp on to some new truth every time I read it.

It feels like almost every day's passage is exactly what I needed to hear that day. Great for people who constantly say they "don't have time" for a daily devotional -each section is only one page with a paired bible verse. I love this book and look forward to learning more as I continue to read.

I love this book, but was disappointed to find that the cost difference between this gift edition and the regular book was just a box to fit the book in and a ribbon marker in the book.

Paul Tripp's daily devotional is excellent & I highly recommend it. It's not one of those fluffy, feel good pieces either. He addresses real, everyday issues head on. Buy it and see if you don't agree.

Love this devotional! Brief but deep!

Unlike the usual daily devotionals, Tripp takes us deeper into what it means to be a child of God. His observations and candor are refreshing. He challenges us to truly think about what our faith means.
