Roger Priddy's passion for educating children through fun, informative and engaging books has led him to create some of publishing's most enduring and successful nonfiction early learning books. Roger lives in London and has three children, who have been the inspiration behind many of his best publishing ideas.

My great grandson is two and loves sticker books. Spends time everyday working on his colors and stickers.

My little boy love reading form this book(I know he just want the stickers)

Very colorful book, simple and fun. My 2 year old loves this book and he's learned so much already.

My just two year loves this. Will be buying again.

Stickers aren't durable. They only are able to re-stick few times before they roll at the edges and become useless. Otherwise for learning purposes it is fun for kids.

I like the idea, could've been bigger.

Fun activity book for young kids...

awesome, great quality
