Number Two: More Short Tales From A Very Tall Man

Synopsis

From the twisted and juvenile mind that brought you the national bestseller Anchorboy comes another rollicking collection of embarrassing stories that will make you laugh, cry, and feel just a little bit uncomfortable. Get ready for more story time with everyone's favourite Canadian sportscaster, Jay Onrait! Pull up a chair, open a bag of ketchup chips, and join Jay as he reminisces about the times he . . . explored the squalid world of medical marijuana; made a mess of himself on the road to Pittsburgh; got upstaged on live TV by comedy legend Martin Short; rode a Street Dragon through the laneways of Sochi; shared a drink with Jay-Z and was then asked to leave; And much, much more!

Some really interesting stories about his life growing up and his family. Also stories from his career.

Very enjoyable Followup to Anchorboy.

I enjoyed reading this book, it's really a great book you will laugh your ass off its memoir when you are growing up you did things innocently experimenting things not knowing the consequences after the fact....it's hilarious! I highly recommend this book to anyone who has positive attitude and has an open mind.
