My 9-year-old granddaughter LOVES this cookbook. It's full of great pictures and descriptions. She has found the recipes to be interesting, fun, and yummy!

I purchased this cookbook for a 10 year old girl, who picked it up and went through it immediately. She loved it, marked things she wanted to make with her mom and the recipes appealed to her.

I am an 8 year old girl. I got this on and I think that this product has some ingredients that most people don't have, but I have made about 4-5 recipes, and all of them my family and I loved. I think that this cook book inspires you to make more recipes, and I keep wanting to use my cook book for all of the meals! I advise you to get this book.

Great product! This was exactly what was expected! Will definitely recommend to others. Also shipped and delivered fast! Daughter loved this book. She always wants to reference it.

Perfect gift for my ten year old granddaughter. In her words "It's awesome!!"

The subtitle of this book says it all: "Festive Food for Fun Times". My 10 yr. old checked this book out at her school library & we have decided we MUST own our own copy! These recipes are perfect for you and your daughter to prepare together so she can invite friends for a fancy luncheon or tea (and detailed enough to do on her own if your daughter already knows cooking basics. The directions are clear enough for the novice cook (great photos of each step), but also appealing to the experienced cook as all are made entirely from scratch. For example, hot chocolate is made by melting real chocolate (can't wait to try that one! Can you imagine how much better that would taste than with cocoa powder??) Even as a veteran cook, I found the photos helpful for things like how to prepare real zest from a lemon (I've only done the dried stuff in a bottle!), or how to cut a mango or open a pomegranate. The recipes are elegant looking, many with just common household ingredients (at least in a home that cooks from scratch). Some of them have exotic ingredients but that will make those recipes perfect for special occasions. For me, the most interesting thing about this book is how it sparked my daughter's interest in trying some new foods- she's on the autism spectrum and has severe eating issues (mainly only eats yellow or white foods that "look good"- it's a constant challenge to get proper nutrition in her!) The photos in this book are "good enough to eat"!

A perfect gift for my daughter. A very nice keepsake.

I received this for my eleventh birthday, it has a wonderful style and great pictures, however every ingredient was impossible to find. Nearly every dessert called for self-rising flour and diced, hand-picked fruit. Therefor of if your family dose not carry around orange extract, one pound reduced fat creme fraiche and grated lemon un-waxed juice this would not be a good product. I'm an eleven year old and the easiest recipes call for a 5 oz. packet of raspberry black currant flavor gelatin and salted butter with food coloring. Though there are a few good recipes most of them are just bologna.
