A Gentle Spirit: Devotional Selections For Today's Christian Woman (Inspirational Library)

Synopsis

The apostle Peter wrote that a gentle spirit, not our outward appearance, is of great worth in God's sight. In our harsh and often heartless world, gentleness is a much-needed characteristic. With an emphasis on personal spiritual development, this daily devotional for women draws from the best writings of classic and contemporary Christian female authors.

Customer Reviews

With an emphasis on personal spiritual development, this daily devotional draws from the best writings of contemporary Christian female authors.

I was given a printed version of this devotional from a Staff Member. Because she realized I too was moved and uplifted by the devotionsshe shared with me. I highly recommend this devotional because it is full of personal testimonies from many great Christian Women who have all experienced life in the same way we often do, and how they found help and inspiration in God's Word and Promises.

I've purchased 8 books total. I enjoyed my first copy so much that I give copies to special women in my life. Friends, mom, daughter and daughter in law, friend fighting cancer

Daily Devotions by numerous authors. A great little book with a soft cover. Would make a great gift of encouragement.

The first two devotionals I read randomly were just what I needed for encouragement! It continues to encourage me each day!

Interesting reading

I can say it in one sentence. This book is one of the most inspirational books I have ever read ;)

The spiritual food in this inspiring devotional is appropriate for anyone, not just women. There are nuggets of wisdom shared from a wide range of Christian writers, some from this generation, others from the past. "God does nothing arbitrarily" writes Elizabeth Prentiss (January 3) and if you are fortunate enough to come across this volume, that theme will be reinforced in its pages. January 5 Emilie Barnes reminds us "time with your heavenly Father is never wasted." Ruth Bell Graham adds her input for the first month noting (January 9) that "to keep in shape spiritually, we need spiritual nourishment and exercise." February 6, Amy Carmichael writes, "Thou must look steadfastly through the visible till the invisible opens to thee." Cheryl Biehl (April 7) says, "He invites you to spend time in His presence because He loves you." Mrs. Charles E. Cowman tells us in May 8th devotional that "they who are God's without reserve, are in every state content; for they will only what He wills, and desire to do for Him whatever He desires them to do..." Moving on into autumn, Cora Harris MacIlravy advises, "we endure as beholding Him who is invisible." And the next day Corrie ten Boom writes, "Sometimes what we see as a curse one day becomes a blessing the next." In the month of November Jean Flesming reflectively observes, "as I evaluate my life before the Lord every three or four months, I remind myself that life is seasonal." This sampling just shows the diversity of insight on myriad topics that pertain to anyone seeking to grow stronger by taking in the rich spiritual food in this volume.
