Cystic Fibrosis ~ Alternative Treatments

Synopsis

Cystic fibrosis is an inherited disease that causes not only suffocation but it causes by destroying the villus and microvillus in the intestines, an inability to absorb nutrients often causing little children to become infected by numerous pathogens because their undernourished immune system is too weak to fight off these pathogenic microbes. There are many treatments for CF in addition to drugs treatments and it is possible to minimize the symptoms of CF.

Customer Reviews

Biography I studied at Harvard as an undergraduate and in the spring of 1965 started a used bicycle business in a garage I rented for $15 a month. I had recently lost my part time job and was broke! To my utter surprise bicycle sales were so good I couldn't fix up used bikes fast enough! I rented a retail store and also sold new bikes and called it The Bicycle Revival. I eventually established 17 bicycle stores in the Boston area, Philadelphia, Florida, New Hampshire and Cape Cod. Soon after I opened my first store in Cambridge, I became too busy to study and took what I thought would be a year off, but regrettably, I never returned to finish my last year as business kept growing and growing and I liked making lots of money! I sold the business to an Italian company in 1971, got married and moved to New Hampshire to manage a land and timber business and started a family.
