Living In A Violent Household (Confronting Violence Against Women)

Synopsis

Unfortunately, news headlines frequently present frightening accounts of women and girls who suffer at the hands of those who live right in their homes. Readers can expect a thoughtful overview of the different kinds of household abuse, whether it's at the hands of partners, parents, or siblings. This approachable volume will help those who are suffering and looking for help as well as those who know someone living in an abusive home. Readers can find tips for safely dealing with these sensitive situations as well as important organizations that offer assistance and safety.

Customer Reviews

Gr 10 Up-Many teens today, particularly young women, face myriad issues related to violence in different contexts. This series takes an in-depth look at topics that readers (or someone they know) might be experiencing. The information is well researched and very detailed, and the authors cite studies and provide examples of real-life scenarios. The books are text-heavy, but the content is broken down in an easily readable way, with color photos and supplemental pages of text. "Myth and Facts" helps teens wade through misconceptions about these complicated and often dire situations and may also prompt them to seek help if they are struggling. The goal of the series is to educate but also to reassure readers that they are not alone, and the titles emphasize legal rights, self-protection, and the importance of not blaming the victim. VERDICT A significant and unique discussion of potentially life-or-death situations. (c) Copyright 2011. Library Journals LLC, a wholly owned subsidiary of Media Source, Inc.
