Zak And His Good Intentions

Synopsis

Zak and his sister Hana decide to see how many good deeds they can do in one day. However, everything is going wrong for Zak, and his plans only end in disappointment . . . and lots and lots of mess. After his misadventures, Zak realized that it isn't only what happens that matters; his good intentions count too. J. Samia Mair has published three children's books: Amira's Totally Chocolate World, The Perfect Gift, and the chapter book The Great Race to Sycamore Street. She is a staff writer for SISTERS magazine and Discover: The Magazine for Curious Muslim Kids.

Customer Reviews

J. Samia Mair has published three children's books, two of which are picture books: Amira's Totally Chocolate World and The Perfect Gift, both of which have been favourably received. She has also published one chapter book, The Great Race to Sycamore Street and is a staff writer for SISTERS Magazine and Discover: The magazine for curious Muslim kids. Additionally, she has published articles, stories, and poems in books, magazines, anthologies, scientific journals, online news sources, and elsewhere.

Absolutely love this book.. Its great to see a high quality Islamic book..

A simple story with a powerful message. A great motivation for children and a gentle reminder for the times we face hurdles and get frustrated when doing good deeds.

I love this book. Such a wonderful surprise ending!!
